

HERITAGE WEEK 2019

PASTIMES/PAST TIMES

Welcome to Heritage Week in Co Monaghan. Coordinated by the Heritage Council, National Heritage Week is part of European Heritage Days which promote Europe's common cultural heritage. Heritage Week, Ireland's most popular cultural event, will see half a million people participate in over 2,200 events in 2019. In Monaghan, the Monaghan County Council Heritage Office helps to facilitate and promote engagement in Heritage Week.

This year's theme "Pastimes/Past Times" has shaped the type of events on offer. There are craft demonstrations and classes to partake in, as well as re-enactments of past times, nature activities and outdoor explorations to enjoy.

In this booklet are details of events that have been generously organised by communities throughout the county; groups that continue to explore and safeguard our heritage for present and future generations. We thank them. Voluntary groups are always looking for new members so be sure to ask the organisers how to get further involved.

We hope Heritage Week helps you connect with our heritage and provides inspiration of how we can all live more sustainably, taking good examples from the past and using this knowledge for our future. Explore and enjoy!

From the Heritage Section of Monaghan Co Council.

Shirley Clerkin, County Heritage Officer

Sandra McQuaid, Assistant Staff Officer

A contact person has been identified for each event and participants are advised to confirm details in advance. Please wear appropriate clothing and footwear for outdoor events. Events are FREE unless otherwise stated.

ECUMENICAL SERVICE

MOUSEWOOD GRAVEYARD

Saturday 17th August

3pm

Mousewood Graveyard, which is situated in the townland of Kilnacloy, is the final resting place of many hundreds of Monaghan people who passed away in the Monaghan Union Workhouse and nearby Fever Hospital during the 19th and early 20th centuries.

The small tranquil piece of sloping ground which comprises Mousewood is surrounded by private lands and as such there is currently no public right of way to access the cemetery. Sadly, no public records survive to identify the names or exact numbers of men, women and children who lie buried in unmarked graves in Mousewood.

The Kilnacloy Residents Association, in conjunction with the Old Monaghan Society and the Monaghan Order of the Knights of St Columbanus, plan to unveil an inscribed memorial during the Ecumenical Service to be held on the site of the now demolished Workhouse in Belgium Park. The simple cut-stone memorial was designed using remnant stones retrieved from the ruins of the old Fever Hospital.

'NEVER A DULL MOMENT': THE HISTORY AND CHARACTERS OF CASTLE LESLIE

Monday 19th August

11am

Castle Leslie has been home to successive generations of writers and artists. In the early eighteenth century Dean Jonathan Swift, wrote rather humorously;

"Here I am in Castle Leslie With rows and rows of books upon the shelves Written by the Leslie's All about themselves."

This talk will look at some of the colourful characters in the families' history - those who are well-known and those who are more elusive. A special talk will take place in The Billiard Room. Places are limited. Booking essential on www.eventbrite.ie.

CLONES LACE - BEGINNERS

Tuesday 20th August

2pm - 5pm

Clones Lace was introduced to the Clones area in 1847 as a famine relief scheme. Within a few years 1,500 people were crocheting collars and other attire, which were then worn by royalty and became high fashion all over the world. In 1910, Irish Crochet, as it was then known, was introduced to the west of Ireland by the Congested Districts Board and teachers travelled from the North Monaghan/South Fermanagh area to teach it. Booking is essential.

THE LOST GARDENS OF GLASLOUGH

Wednesday 21st August

11.30am - 1pm

The Walled Garden at Castle Leslie is often overlooked and forgotten. Dating back to the 1860's, the once showpiece of the estates gardens, was 'temporarily mothballed'. We invite the public to take in the beauty of the 'Lost Gardens' for themselves. Due to the uneven outdoor terrain, walking shoes/wellington boots are advised. Children under 12 must be accompanied by an adult.
