Re : Application for registration of an equine premises

Dear Mr Mc Manus,

I wish to let you know that the following registration number has been allocated to you in respect of your equine premises at [REDACTED]

Keeper Name: [REDACTED]

Equine Premises Registration Number

The equine premises registration number is an administrative device issued by the Department to identify premises on which equines are kept. The main reason for this is to enable the Department to contact owners/persons in charge of such premises in the event of a serious disease outbreak or threatened outbreak and thus take remedial action quickly. The registration number neither confers nor infers ownership of the equines or of the premises.

Please advise the Department in the event of any changes in the details regarding the premises owner/person in charge, the type of enterprise or if equines are no longer kept on the premises.

Records

As the owner or person in charge of a registered premises you must keep the following records and maintain them for at least three years.

- (i) An initial record of all equines on your premises, including their passport number/UEL number where available
- (ii) Details of all births and deaths on your premises
- (iii) Details of all* movements of equines onto your premises
- (iv) Details of all* movements of equines off your premises
- (v) In the case of equine enterprises (such as shows, sales, gymkhanas, racecourses, hunts, veterinary hospitals, farriers etc) to which temporary movements are the norm, the details of all such temporary movements must be recorded *

In many cases you may already be keeping such records. The records may be kept in paper or electronic format. A suggested template for record keeping, which sets out the type of details that must be recorded is attached for your information.
